

Paul Hebert

Paul Hebert is the director of quality management for IR HiRel Products, an Infineon Technologies company. Paul has over 30 years of experience in failure analysis, reliability and quality management for high reliability electronics, particularly microcircuits and semiconductors. A major focus has been zero defects via the adoption of robust processes, designs and systems for high reliability products. Mr. Hebert holds an MBA from Babson College.